Description

The Siemens 6AV3637-1LL00-0AX1 is a Human Machine Interface (HMI) operator panel from the OP37 series, designed for industrial automation applications. Manufactured by Siemens, this panel features a 100 MHz Pentium processor, 8 MB of RAM, and a liquid crystal color graphic display (STN). It operates without a hard drive or floppy disk, ensuring robust performance in demanding environments. The panel's dimensions are 482.6 mm in width, 310.3 mm in height, and 85 mm in depth, with a weight of approximately 8 kg. This model has been discontinued, with its product lifecycle ending on October 1, 2013. Despite its discontinuation, the 6AV3637-1LL00-0AX1 remains a reliable choice for industrial applications requiring a durable and efficient HMI solution.
